A MESSAGE FROM THE RABBI

Rabbi Shimon said: There are three crowns: the crown of Torah, the crown of priesthood, and the crown of royalty, but the crown of a good name surpasses them all.

Mishnah Pirke Avot 4:13

I have known Jennifer and David Frisch for as long as I served as the Rabbi of Plainview Jewish Center. In fact, the Frisch's first visit to PJC coincided with my "audition" Shabbat. For the most part, the Frischs have kept a low profile at our synagogue. They have provided us with a great deal of leadership and support. But most of their work, like David's service as our Treasurer, has taken place outside the public view. For many of our congregants, Jennifer and David might be best known as the parents of our synagogue's only set of triplets, Jacob, Ben and Sammie. Their triple B'nai Mitzvah made quite an impression on our congregation.

Outside the walls of Plainview Jewish Center, however, this modest and unassuming couple have a certain kind of notoriety—the best kind—among people who know them and work with them. Both Jennifer and David are successful professionals. Both Jennifer's dental practice and David's Financial Services Company bear their names, which means that they put their personal reputations on the line every day. People in the community say remarkably similar things about Jennifer and David. They both have a reputation for integrity, excellence, generosity and being community minded. Jennifer and David are known for the quality of their work, but even more so for the quality of their character.

As a congregation, we are truly fortunate to have the Frischs as members. Jennifer and David have earned the crown of a good name in our community. It reflects well on Plainview Jewish Center that a family with such high standards supports us so passionately. We are proud to be honoring Jennifer and David this year. We appreciate all that they have done for us as a congregation over the years. Their contributions have been significant and ongoing. But we appreciate even more the example they have set; an example of integrity, generosity, leadership and commitment to the highest Jewish values.

On a personal note, I have had the pleasure of getting to know Jennifer and David both inside and outside the synagogue over the last fourteen years. I have been able to watch Jacob, Ben and Sammie grow up from their Religious School days—where they made up 30% of their class—through B’nai Mitzvah, high school and college. I am so proud of the accomplished, mature and well-grounded adults they have become. I have had the opportunity to spend time with both Jennifer and David in all kinds of settings, inside and outside of PJC. I have come to greatly value their insights and their friendship. I have always said that our congregants are Plainview Jewish Center’s greatest asset. Jennifer and David, and what they have brought to our congregation and community, are an outstanding example of this truth.

Today, Jennifer and David are lending their good names to Plainview Jewish Center by serving as our Journal honorees. Thank, Jennifer and David, for stepping up for our congregation this year. Thank you for always being ready to help and support Plainview Jewish Center. And thank you for enriching our synagogue by sharing both your family and good name with us. May our congregation always strive to reach the high standard of Jewish values and commitment that you exemplify every day.

L’shalom,

Rabbi Steven Conn

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

It is an honor to be writing on behalf of the 69th annual Journal celebrating the Plainview Jewish Center and its special honorees, Dr. Jennifer and David Frisch.

Since 1953, PJC has evolved and grown into the pre-eminent synagogue not only in the Plainview-Old Bethpage community, but the entire East Nassau region. Our longstanding success can be credited to a symbiotic relationship between our esteemed clergy, dedicated teachers, dynamic staff and most of all, a cadre of impassioned and committed lay leadership.

This morning's festivities would not be the success it is without the hard work of some very dedicated people. I would like to thank my co-chairs, Bruce Elowsky and Shea Z. Lerner and the entire journal dinner committee, Linda Klayman and Stacy Meyerson. Yasher Koach to Dorit Mass for coordinating and creating the commemorative journal, Steve Rubinfeld for the Graphic Design; Robert Nardo and Jerry Aschettino, our security team, Debbie Berman for her efforts managing all of the business details and our caterer Robert Steinberg of Robert Ian Caterers whose eloquence and culinary talents make the morning a success. Special Kudos to our Facility Engineering Team; Freddie Franco and Tulia Vasquez, for their amazing talents. A debt of gratitude is owed to each one of you, who have purchased and/or solicited ads for the evening.

The positive "buzz" in the community about our congregation stems not only from our progress and programs, but from OUR PEOPLE!

On behalf of my wife Sabrina, and children Lauren & Jason, I wish you all health, happiness, and success in all endeavors.

With Love,
Bruce Hymowitz

A MESSAGE FROM THE JOURNAL COMMITTEE

In this our 69TH year, it is with great pleasure and pride that the Congregation of Plainview Jewish Center, its Board of Trustees, and Executive Board honor Dr. Jennifer and David Frisch.

For the past six decades, the Plainview Jewish Center has been an inspiration for the Jewish community, providing our members a place to pray, study, socialize, observe life cycle events, and most important, to perpetuate our tradition in a constant and ever-changing world. Through our commitment and involvement in the congregation, we strive to build this synagogue to be a "second home" for our congregants and the community. Due to the extraordinary efforts and commitment from Jennifer and David along with the volunteers and members of our congregation, Religious School, Men's Club, Sisterhood and community at large, our goals have and will continue to be attained.

As in previous years, organizing a Journal Campaign takes a tremendous amount of time and effort and can only be achieved with the support and collaboration of many individuals. We sincerely express our appreciation to all those who either solicited or subscribed their advertisements. We ask everyone to please support our patrons and let them know that you saw their ads in our journal program.
